Gambling Extraordinary.

The newspapers have a story of Commodore Vanderbilt seeing a blackleg's bluff at poker, and going a thirty thousand dollar steamboat better; but this is hardly up to an affair of which we recollect reading long since in a Mississippi paper. In the days when the Hon. George Poindeux represented the State in the Federal Senate, say some thirty-five years ago, before the time of railroads, he started from Natchez by an up-river boat on his way to Washington. The Agricultural Bank, having a heavy deposit to make in one of the Pittsburgh banks, intrusted the money to his charge. Before twenty-four hours had elapsed some of the sporting fraternity were making up a little game, and invited the Senator to take a hand, to which, nothing loath, he consented. The game ran about the usual course of such things while the professionals were taking the measure of their intended victim, and guessing at the size of his pile. When these points were settled to their satisfaction, the business began in earnest. Poindeux, upon which he made a small bet, and the others went with one exception, who "saw him," and passed a thousand dollars better. To this he responded with another thousand dollars better, when the gambler replied, "I see your thousand dollars and go thirty thousand dollars better," for, perceiving that his customer was pretty flush, he did not dare risk a few thousand. Poindeux replied that that was more money than he had, but he would put up his pile, which entitled him to a sight. This the other denied to be the law. "Certainly," said Mr. P., "I always understand that a gentleman has a right to a show for his money." "Not unless it is stipulated beforehand," and the gambler appealed to the "gentlemen," present, who sustained him. "Come," said the ruffian, throwing down a well-filled pocket-book, and laying his watch on the table. "I go thirty thousand dollars better, and give you five minutes to raise the money." Poindeux bid him count his money; and there it was, sure enough, in good-bills. "Well," said he, rising, "I will see if I can find any friends who will furnish the funds," and he passed into the ladies' cabin, in which was his state room. He lingered some time, and as the hand was nearing the last minute, returned quietly, took his seat, drew a bulky pocket-book from his breast, and laying it upon the table, calmly said, "Sir, I see your thirty thousand dollars and go a hundred and thirty thousand dollars better, and give you five minutes to raise the money." It was the turn of the astonished gambler to call for a count, but before Mr. Poindeux got through with the hundred and fifty thousand, he threw down his hand—there being too many spectators to make it safe to raise a row—and, with his companions, went ashore at the next wharf.—Mobile Times.

BUTTER FACTORIES IN NEW YORK.—The New York Tribune says butter factories are rapidly increasing in number in the State of New York. Water-power generally determines the site, though steam is generally preferred to water-power. A cold and copious spring is well-nigh indispensable. A large reservoir-like cellar is dug in the ground and tightly walled with plank. Broad platforms extend into this, floating on two or three feet of water, constantly renewed from the spring. In the reservoir deep pails or cans are set and filled three-fourths full of milk—the milk remains here twenty-four to thirty-six hours, when the cream is taken off and churned by steam or water-power—six to twenty-four churns being operated at once, with no draft on human muscle. The butter thus made is of such uniform and superior quality as to bring from five to ten cents per pound more than fair farm dairies will command. A very fair quality of cheese is made of the milk after it is skimmed. The Tribune estimates that the dairy product of the State will be increased at least one fourth by the general introduction of these factories.

HORRORS OF YELLOW FEVER.—The Houston (Texas) Telegraph says: "We have witnessed a number of epidemics within the last twenty years, have been cognizant of many sad scenes caused by ravages of the pestilence; but we have never known anything of the sort so sad as the destruction which the yellow fever during the late prevalence of the epidemic, has wrought in the family and kindred of Col. J. J. Diamond, chief proprietor and editor of the Journal of this city. There were two families—first, that of Col. J. J. Diamond, and that of Col. W. W. Diamond, his brother. In addition, there was a large family of orphan children of deceased brothers in Georgia, who had come to Col. Diamond for protection. Both the Colonels Diamond had died, and also twelve of the above mentioned kindred, making fourteen in all! Merciful Heaven, what a destruction in one family!"

Miscellaneous Items.
A letter from Florence says that to the great delight of the Italians, the crops all over Italy this year have been more than abundant. They have been overwhelming. Hay, corn, pulse, fruits, wine, oil, and chestnuts, all equally astonishing in quantity as in quality.

Only think of an army contractor being sentenced to five years' penal servitude for attempting to swindle the English Government in some matter relating to the Abyssinian expedition! Attempting, mind you, not succeeding.

The sale of manufactured in the city of Munich of the much admired crystallized or "mother of pearl" vending card has been forbidden by law, the cards being found to be glazed with a poisonous substance.

William Todd, a negro preacher, was fined two dollars at Huntsville, Ala., week before last, for stealing Latin, Greek and other books and philosophical apparatus from the Female College.

A lady in Alabama, received on Christmas day, from a friend in Mexico, a present of $2,000 in silver!
